

Kingdom Arts and Sciences

This tournament is broken into two parts, Tri-levels and Championships. The entrants who are competing in the Championship level are vying to be named the Kingdom Arts and Sciences champion. Each championship entrant must submit three entries from separate Arts and Sciences categories, which will be judged at the advanced level.

The Arts and Sciences champion is determined by highest combined points from the scoring of the three submitted entries. The winner is responsible for having their name and likeness added to the scroll of honor which they will keep until the next Arts and Sciences Competition. The champion will also receive a baldric to wear that marks them as the current Kingdom Arts and Sciences champion.

Tri-Level competition is when the entrant is competing against the criteria for the item that they have entered. The entrant can be judged at the Novice, Intermediate, or Advanced level. The judges may ask the entry be judged at a higher level than entered based on the overall work. There is competition is open to anyone, there are no AOA level restrictions with this tournament like with Queens Prize.
