X-600 All residents of the Kingdom of Calontir have the right to submit a letter to the Crown upon any matter. However, if unsigned, no letter will be seriously considered or acted upon. The populace is hereby reminded to first utilize proper channels of communication, as the Crown will in most instances remand the case to the pertinent officer.

X-601 All residents of the Kingdom have the right to recommend to the Crown anyone who, in their estimation, is deserving of an award on any level. Such recommendations shall be in writing, and shall bear the name(s) of the author(s) thereof, and bear accompanying documentation.

X-700 The Laws of the Kingdom shall apply equally to all citizens of Calontir. In the event that an individual shall adopt an alternate persona, said persona shall be subject to all laws and proclamations pertaining to his or her other personae.

X-800 No household, guild, association, et al. organized for the purpose of "assassination" shall be allowed in the Kingdom of Calontir, as this does not meet with the basic principles of chivalric behavior. Assassination games may be played with the advance express knowledge and consent of all participants. Such consent should be in writing; the rules and duration of the game shall be clearly written and made public to all those present.

X-900 The bearing of period weaponry at any function of the Society within the Kingdom of Calontir shall be assured to all subjects of the Realm unless required otherwise for reasons of safety by the Crown, the Crown's representative, or the Marshallate; or as site restrictions dictate otherwise.

X-1003 Personal combat, challenges, lists, or melees shall not be entered into by any participant when said combat is the result of anger. No quarrel in earnest shall be "settled" by SCA combat. The Crown, Their duly authorized representatives, and/or the Marshallate shall prevent or halt any such combat and forbid it to continue.

Article XI. Recognition and Advancement of Local Branches

XI-100 Prospective branches shall petition the Crown for recognition and/or advancement within the Kingdom according to the following procedure. The petition will be submitted to the Kingdom Seneschal who shall process the application with all due speed according to the procedures outlined in Corpora and Kingdom Law. The Kingdom Seneschal shall then inform the Crown of the findings and recommendations for action.

XI-200 New branches shall recommend and request a warrant for a seneschal, a treasurer, and at least one other officer.

XI-300 Branches must have registered a name.

XI-400 Existing branches shall not be permitted a division or advancement that will foster a schism or fractionalization of a political nature in the resident populace.

Article XII. Territorial Baronages

XII-100 A written petition to the Crown for a branch's elevation to Baronial status must be made by and reflect the support of the majority of the subscribing members of the Society within the proposed Barony. Consideration of this petition requires that it must not be substantially opposed by members of the proposed Barony.

XII-200 The Crown, taking into Their consideration the wishes of the proposed Barony, shall invest the person(s) deemed most fit to represent the Royal Presence in the Barony as the Baronage, henceforth defined as a Baron and/or Baroness.

XII-300 Territorial Barons and Baronesses, once titled shall retain said title and position until such time as they resign or leave their Barony, pursuant to relevant sections of the Corpora. Upon permanently leaving their Barony, or as specified in the Corpora, they shall resign their territorial title and shall be created a Baron/ Baroness of the Court by the Crown. A new Baronage may be created in accordance with the desires of the Crown, who shall consider the advice of the resigning Coronet, the recommendations of any remaining Coronet, and the wishes of the subjects of the Barony in question.

XII-400 In case of an extended but temporary absence of the Baronage, they may, with the approval of the Crown, appoint a Vicar to fulfill the duties of the Baronage until their return. If there be both entitled Baron and entitled Baroness within a Barony, the Coronet taking the leave of absence may remand their duties to the remaining Coronet.

XII-500 Territorial Barons and Baronesses are the direct representatives of the Crown and shall speak with the Crown's voice in all matters pertaining to their Barony, unless otherwise specified by the Crown.

Article XIII The Council of Nobles

XIII-100 Recognizing that the Crown may from time to time request and desire advice from those with experience in ruling, herewith shall be created the Council of Nobles of the Kingdom of Calontir. The Council of Nobles shall be composed of Their Royal Majesties, Their Royal Highnesses, Dukes, Duchesses, Counts, Countesses, Viscounts, Viscountesses, Past or Present Territorial Baronages of Calontir lineage and resident in the Kingdom. Others may be asked to attend at the Crown's discretion. The Council shall meet at Their Majesties' pleasure and shall consider such matters as the Crown may remand to its attention.

Article XIV. Kingdom Courts

XIV-100 There shall exist in Calontir three levels of formal complaint and reconciliation of antagonistic parties. All three levels are intended to provide mechanisms for the resolution of legitimate issues between concerned parties within the context of the Society. Issues which lie outside the jurisdiction of the Society shall not be brought before the formal mechanisms outlined below. None of these mechanisms shall be construed to place limitations upon the Crown's rights, duties, and privileges as outlined in Kingdom Law and Corpora. No Kingdom Court has jurisdiction over a Crown. This right has been specially reserved by the Board to itself.

XIV-101 Each level of formal complaint and reconciliation shall be used before proceeding to the next level. In all cases, all parties shall remember that each level of formal complaint and reconciliation is not a substitute for the common codes of honor and chivalry which are at the heart of the SCA, and all parties are encouraged to rely on these common codes of honor and chivalry to resolve any dispute before involving the formal mechanisms initially, and before proceeding to the next level.

XIV-102 At each level of formal complaint and reconciliation all parties who are delivering evidence, whether as an antagonistic party or as a witness, are doing so upon their personal honor as to the truth of their statements.

XIV-200 The first level of formal complaint and reconciliation shall be those internal administrative mechanisms established for each of the respective Kingdom Offices.

XIV-201 In any case where the complaint or issue crosses jurisdiction between Kingdom Offices, is outside the jurisdiction of a specific office, or where it may involve a Kingdom Officer, then the administrative mechanisms of the Advocate's Office shall be used. Likewise, any person who feels that he or she has not received satisfaction through the internal administrative mechanisms for another Kingdom Office may turn to the Advocate's Office for consideration of their complaint.

XIV-202 In instances where the complaint involves the Advocate as a concerned party, the deputy to the Advocate may fulfill the administrative mechanisms of that office. If this alternative is unavailable or inappropriate, the Crown shall select another individual to fulfill this role.

XIV-300 The second level of formal complaint and reconciliation within the Kingdom of Calontir shall be the Court of Inquiry & Arbitration. The Court of Inquiry & Arbitration is intended to provide an opportunity for fair arbitration between antagonistic parties and the establishment of the facts of a complaint. A request for a Court of Inquiry & Arbitration must be made in writing to the Advocate, specifying the reasons for the request, after the previous mechanisms for reconciliation have been used and proven unsatisfactory to one or more of the antagonistic parties. After receiving such a request, the Advocate shall inform the Crown of the need to convene a Court of Inquiry & Arbitration.

XIV-301 The Advocate shall establish a date for the convening of the Court after consultation with the Crown. The Court may only be convened within the Kingdom of Calontir, at an official event published in the Kingdom Newsletter. The Advocate shall notify the antagonistic parties of the convening of the Court in writing, by return receipt requested mail, a minimum of ten days prior to the date of convening of the Court. Any of the antagonistic parties may appeal the scheduled date directly to the Crown.

Failure of an antagonist to appear after such proper notification has been made may be considered by the Judge or Panel of Judges to be a plea of 'no contest' to the complaints specified. If this occurs, the Judge or Panel of Judges may proceed with reaching a decision in the matter.

XIV-302 The Crown may function as the Judge of the Court of Inquiry and Arbitration, or may appoint a triumvirate Panel of Judges, as the Crown sees fit. The Judge or Panel of Judges shall consider the merits of a complaint and offer resolution to the antagonistic parties. In the case where a Panel of Judges sits, a simple majority vote shall constitute a decision of the Court in all matters.

XIV-303 The Advocate shall sit as an assistant to the Court. The Judge or Panel of Judges may select such other advisors or assistants as seem appropriate.

XIV-304 The Advocate shall appoint a scribe who shall keep an official record of the Court's proceedings and decisions. Copies of this official record shall be provided in a timely fashion to the antagonistic parties, the Judge or Panel of Judges, and the Crown if the Crown does not sit as Judge of the Court. This official record shall be kept by the Advocate as archival material for a period of at least two years. Each antagonist has the right to file a formal written response to the decision by the Court with the Advocate during this time, such a response then becoming a part of the archival material. Said archival materials may be made available to other parties as deemed necessary and appropriate by the Advocate in conjunction with the Kingdom Seneschal.

XIV-305 It is expected that the Court shall be convened for only a short period of time. To this end, the antagonistic parties shall be asked at the outset of the Court if they can agree, in part or in whole, to a list of stipulated facts in the matter as prepared by the Advocate.

XIV-306 Following this, each of the antagonistic parties shall briefly present their case, including aWitnesses may be brought before the Court, and examined by the Judge or Panel of Judges. All witnesses and evidence presented must be acceptable to the Judge or Panel of Judges, who may choose to limit such presentations as the Judge or Panel of Judges sees fit.

XIV-307 At any point in the proceedings the Judge or Panel of Judges may ask such questions as necessary to reach a decision. After the Judge or the Panel of Judges has heard the facts in the matter, listened to the presentation of each of the antagonistic parties, and examined the evidence, the Judge or Panel of Judges shall reach a decision in the matter, and offer a resolution to the antagonistic parties. This decision and proposed resolution shall be made within 15 days of the convening of the Court, except for unusual circumstances, defined by the Crown. The antagonistic parties shall be notified in writing of the decision and proposed resolution, and advised to accept this decision wholly, without reservation, and consider it in their best interests and the best interests of the Kingdom for this to be an end to the matter.

XIV-400 The third and final level of formal complaint and reconciliation within the Kingdom of Calontir shall be the Court of Chivalry. A Court of Chivalry is a court of last resort and will not be called unless at least two members of the Witan (as defined in Kingdom Law, Article IX) have been presented with a petition requesting such a Court following the decision of a Court of Inquiry & Arbitration, and have signed that petition, thereby showing their agreement that a Court of Chivalry serves the interest of the Kingdom and Society. Specifically, the petition shall be initiated by one of the antagonistic parties involved in the Court of Inquiry & Arbitration, except in those cases where the Crown or Kingdom Seneschal believes that a Court of Chivalry is in the best interests of the Kingdom. In these exceptional cases, the Crown or Kingdom Seneschal may initiate a Court of Chivalry in the name of the Kingdom.

In addition to the request for holding the Court of Chivalry, the petition shall name one individual as the subject of the court, and specify a list of complaints against that person under Kingdom or Society Law. It is suggested that such complaints be discussed in advance with the Kingdom Seneschal for clarity.

XIV-401 Having received a petition initiating a Court of Chivalry, the Advocate shall inform the Crown that a Court of Chivalry shall be convened. The Advocate is responsible for convening all Courts of Chivalry and is the officer in charge of the proceedings. All other duties not specifically delegated by these articles to another person shall be the responsibility of the Advocate.

XIV-402 If the Advocate is to be the subject of a Court of Chivalry, the Crown shall appoint a Peer of the Realm, a Royal Peer, or a Great Officer as defined in Article IX of the Laws of Calontir to assume all duties that would normally be the responsibility of the Advocate.

XIV-403 The Advocate shall notify the subject of the Court in writing, by return receipt requested mail, that the Court is to be convened. This notification shall include the following:

A copy of Kingdom Law.

The names of those who petitioned that the Court be convened.

The formal list of complaints to be brought before the Court.

An outline of the procedure for the hearing of the case.

A copy of the archival material of the relevant Court of Inquiry & Arbitration.

A list of four proposed dates and places at which the Court may be held. The Court may only be convened within the Kingdom of Calontir, at an official event published in the Kingdom Newsletter. The dates shall cover a span of not less than four weeks. The first date shall be enough distant to allow notice of the impending Court to be published in the Kingdom Newsletter at least two weeks before the Court convenes.

XIV-404 The subject of the Court shall choose one of the dates and places for the Court, and shall notify the Advocate in writing, by return receipt requested mail, within two weeks of receiving the Advocate's original notification that a Court is to be convened. If none of the dates are acceptable, the subject of the Court shall petition the Crown and the Advocate, in writing, that another time and place be selected. Granting of the petition shall be at the discretion of the Crown. If the subject does not respond within two weeks of receiving the Advocate's original notification, the Advocate shall select one of the proposed dates and places and shall notify the subject in writing, by return receipt requested mail, that the Court will convene that date and in that place, whether the subject is there or not.

Failure of the subject to appear after such proper notification has been made may be considered by the Crown to be a plea of 'no contest' to the complaints specified. If this occurs, the Crown may proceed with deciding upon a sentence, as the Crown sees fit.

XIV-405 All Courts of Chivalry shall be open to the public. The date and place of the Court shall be published in the Kingdom Newsletter at least two weeks before the date of the Court.

XIV-406 Evidence in a Court of Chivalry shall be heard before a jury of not fewer than seven Peers or other responsible persons selected by the Advocate from a list of candidates that shall be provided to the Advocate by the Crown. Said list shall have a minimum of 14 candidates. The Advocate shall also select a minimum of three alternate jurors from the same list.

XIV-407 An uneven number of jurors shall be selected whenever possible.

XIV-408 The subject of the Court shall have the right to challenge any juror if cause can be shown why the appointment of that juror may be prejudicial to the subject's interests. Approval of the challenge is at the discretion of the Crown.

XIV-409 In no case may a person who is otherwise concerned in the case sit upon the jury.

XIV-410 If a Peer is to be tried, all of the jurors must be Peers of the Realm, Royal Peers, or Great Officers.

XIV-411 The Kingdom Seneschal or the Kingdom Seneschal's representative, and any other Kingdom Officer with relevant jurisdiction over the matters at issue, or that person's representative, shall be present at a Court of Chivalry to advise the Crown and the Advocate pertaining to that Kingdom Officer's area of jurisdiction.

XIV-412 The Crown shall usually preside over all Courts of Chivalry. If the Crown is not able to preside, for whatever reason, then the Crown shall appoint a Peer or other responsible person to preside over the Court in the Crown's name. No person may preside over any case in which that person is concerned. A Peer or other person designated by the Crown to preside over a Court of Chivalry may not render sentence.

XIV-413 In the event that the proceedings of a Court of Chivalry extend through two reigns, the person who was presiding over the Court at its inception shall continue to preside until final judgment is rendered. In this case, the Court shall be considered unfinished business of the first reign.

XIV-414 The subject of the Court may be represented and advised by such counsel as that individual chooses. If the subject so requests, the Crown shall appoint a Peer acceptable to the subject to aid in the defense.

XIV-415 The Advocate may appoint such other persons to serve the Court as the Advocate sees fit.

XIV-416 Documentation for the Court of Chivalry shall include, but need not be limited to, copies of all the relevant documents and records from the previous attempts to reach a reconciliation between the subject and other party(ies).

XIV-417 The subject of a Court of Chivalry shall have the right to present evidence and call witnesses in his or her favor and shall have the right to cross-examine all witnesses called. Reasonable time limits may be imposed on all witnesses and periods of cross-examination by the Advocate.

XIV-418 A complete record of the proceedings shall be made by whatever means is most efficient and reliable. A copy of the record shall be made available to the subject following the conclusion of the Court. The record may be made available to other parties as deemed necessary and appropriate by the Advocate in conjunction with the Kingdom Seneschal.

XIV- 419 Two judgments are rendered by a Court of Chivalry: a verdict and a sentence.

A. A verdict is the judgment of guilt, as is rendered by the jury of the Court. Verdict is the sole prerogative of the jury. A verdict is final.

B. Because a Court of Chivalry may be required to review ethical issues (honor, intent, courtesy, etc.) within the framework of the Society, the verdict may not always fall within the limits of guilty/not guilty. Possible verdicts are guilty; guilty, but not as charged; guilty with reservations; not guilty with reservations; innocent. The verdict shall be based on a "preponderance of the evidence" standard.

C. Sentence is a determination of punishment for a subject upon whom a verdict has been reached. Sentence is the sole prerogative of the Crown. Although the Crown may request the recommendation and opinion of the jury in determining sentence, the Crown is not bound by the jury's recommendations. Sentences of Banishment from the Society and Degradations of Peerage shall be presented in the form of a formal request from the Crown to the Board of Directors, which is the only body authorized to approve and implement those sentences.

XIV-420 The verdict and the sentence of the Court shall be published in the Kingdom Newsletter as soon as possible after the Court adjourns.

XIV-421 The sentence of a Court of Chivalry may be appealed to the Board of Directors as provided for in the Corpora of the Society for Creative Anachronism, Inc.

Such person may re-authorize only with the approval of the Sovereign.

XVII-203 The charter shall contain provisions for changing itself in an orderly fashion to meet any future needs not covered in the original charter.

XVII-204 The charter shall meet any other requirements that may be imposed by the appropriate Great Office, or by the Crown.

XVII-300 Any change to a Kingdom-wide charter must be approved by the current Monarch, as the Crown is the source of the authority of the charter.

XVII-400 A Guild must have at least ten (10) members in order to receive its initial charter and to maintain its status. Failure to maintain the minimum numbers shall result in the suspension of the Chartered Group for the duration of the next Reign.

XVII-500 Guilds are obligated to support the Kingdom to maintain their status at the Crowns request.

Article XVIII. Royal Events

XVIII-100 Royal Events are events that are set by Crown and Kingdom Law. No other events may be held to conflict with them. These events are: Crown Tournaments, Coronations, Calontir Lilies War, Queen's Prize, Kingdom Arts & Sciences and King's Companie of Archers Tournament.

XVIII-201 A committee is established, known as the Lilies War Committee. Said committee shall be an independently functioning committee, the chairman of which shall report to the Kingdom Seneschal and the Crown. Membership and finances of said committee shall be governed by a charter known as the Lilies War Charter.
